

Re-mem-bering the Wild Earth

AN IMMERSIVE NATURE-BASED RETREAT

Re-mem-bering the Wild Earth is an invitation to deepen into our connection with the wild, living landscape. In this immersive retreat, we will gather together to explore what it means to truly belong to the Earth community. We will spend solo time on the land engaging in practices to help us become more permeable to and active in the larger conversation in which we are always immersed. We will sit in council and give voice to our deep longings, which are also the world's deep longings, and we will listen closely to that which wants to emerge from us during this time of profound change. Will you join us?
