Archetypal Earth and Cosmos

Join us May 3-31, 2026, for Archetypal Earth & Cosmos, an online immersion program exploring how foundational ecological patterns shape our personal and collective journeys

What is the earth asking of us?

How does our inner life respond to the vibrancy of the natural world as a living subject?

COHORT FORMING NOW: Starting in May 2026, join Ann Amberg, M.C.S., M.A. for an online learning immersion as we deepen our awareness of core universal energies from experiential, spiritual, evolutionary cosmological and depth ecological perspectives. Our exploration will primarily draw from The Powers of the Universe, the 11-part educational video series by Dr. Brian Thomas Swimme. The powers of the universe are foundational eco-cultural and psychic patterns that shape all life, from molecules to animals to bioregions to galaxies.

Gravity, emergence, balance, destruction and rebirth, transformation, and complexity are a few of the foundational dynamics that ensure the earth community's capacity for creativity. Drawing from the wisdom of depth psychology, we'll invite an everyday lived experience of the numinous qualities of earth and psyche, exploring new capacities enabling us to respond with grace and agility in this time of seismic change.

Inspired by the work of Thomas Berry, Brian Thomas Swimme and luminaries in the fields of cosmology and consciousness, ecopsychology and Jungian depth psychology, we will explore our emerging orientation as planetary humans, consciously reflecting and embodying the ten patterns that shape the universe and all life. With a deep awareness of how these powers inhabit us, we can learn to work in synergy with ancient life systems to release outmoded domination paradigms and nurture our birthright as planetary humans.

We will meet on Sundays May 3-31, 2026
9:30-11 am Pacific
